PARIS PAPERS.

Paris, Nov. 6.—We have received from Ancora intelligence of the 20th Od. It makes no mention of the movements of the Neapolian troops who were said to have entered the Duchy of Urlino on the 18th; yes letters seem to leave doubt upon the subject. The treport was in circulation at Paris, last Thursday. It was said that the Neapolian same, after having proceeded upon a comment of the paris. We expedit the control of the cont

THE MORNING CHRONICLE. LONDON. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1814

Yesterday we received Paris Papers to the 7th inst. They contain no political intelligence from Vienna, no any speculations as to the result of the deliberations of the Congress. any speculations as to the result of the deliberations of the Congress. It is, however, repeated in an article dated from Leipsic, that the kingdom of Saxony is de-dinitively incorporated with Prussia. The report of Neapolian troops having entered the Duchy of Urbino is mentioned in the Paris Journals not to be ancitioned by advices from Ancona; but they notwithstanding give credit to the statement on the authority of private letters. An article dated from the frontiers of Austria, states, that a pronosition had been made to Kies Lives

NAPLES, Oct. 14.—Since the last Decree of King | SENTENCE OF THE COURT-MARTIAL NAPLES, Ocr. 14.—Since the last Decree of King Joaquim, many Neapolitan, who had served under the hanners of the King of Sicily, have found means to abandon them, and have arrived in this city. Several more, who were employed in His Britannie Majesty's gun-boats, have been sent back by the English Commander, who were a very polite letter on the subject to Marcchal di Campo Arcovito, who commands the Neapolitan army in Calabria. Notwithstanding the recent Proclamation of Ferdinand, forbidding all sort of communication with the opposite coast, there sailors emmandents on the subject to unication with the opposite coast, these sailors em-irked at Messina, and were landed at Reggio, in Ca-

Musars?

This most extraordinary sentence had not been communicated befored and to the Officers in the regiment accordingly. Lieut. Colonel Palmer had led the regiment to the parade, accompanied by the other officers, but on the reading of the above sentence and confirmation, they had to skeath their swords, and Major Howard (who had not joined in the prosecution) took the command, and led the regiment off the parade. We are anxious to see the precise words of this Sentence and Confirmation. We are not sufficiently read in military law to be able to say whether there is a precedent for this proceeding or not.
